THE MOUNTAIN EVÁNGELIST. Advises his Hearers to Do Their Own Work and Let the Lord Do His.

fter the Rev. Dr. Fullous, in the lecture om of the Centennial Baptist Church, Brooklyn, had read the story of the widow and her oil as told in the fourth chapter of Second Kings, the Mountain Evangelist, George O. Barnes, used the story as the text of his ser-Remaining seated in his chair, he said:

'All these stories are allegories containing precious principles. The principle in this one is that according to the faith so shall the blessings be. F in is the taking principle in this life. In natever you take you have. If little is taken in this world you will be a pauper in the next. You must take in this world if you get anything. You will walk by sight, and not by faith, over there. It is common to hear people repeat that old prayer of the apostle, 'Lord, increase my faith.' Don't think because it is in the Bible that it is right. Those disciples were always making blunders. Don't ask the Lord to do your work, and don't try to do the Lord's always making blunders. Don't ask the Lord's to do your work, and don't try to do the Lord's work. When the spostle made that prayer, Christ answered He was not going to do it.

"You have all got faith as a mustard seed, but you must cultivate it as you would the seed before it will become all-powerful. The faith, like a mustard seed, contained the germ which, when grown, could remove mountains. Faith is gained like wealth, by adding little to little, Budden wealth takes sudden departures, whether it be wealth of money or faith. Trust the Lord all you can to-day and you'll trust Him more to-morrow. Asking God to increase your faith throws the blame of your lack of faith on God. The woman in the text had a chance to get rich, and failed to improve it. She began right. She said to the prophet: You know my husband was a good man, and now his sons are going into bond for debt. When a simple statement is made of Christ's worth and of the needs of the petitioner, the answer is prompt. The widow had the pot of oil. She ought to have been thankful for it; that was all the Lord wanted. The Lord must have something to work with. It is the devil's dictionary that says creation is the making of something out of nothing. The pot of oil in the sinner is the willing, striving spirit. As there will come a time when by the disuse of a faculty that faculty is lost, so the spirit will not always strive with a man.

"The woman failed to become wealthy from the willing, striving spirit. In the Christian it is the moving spirit. As there will come a time when by the disuse of a faculty that faculty is lost, so the spirit will not always strive with a man.

"The woman failed to become wealthy from the sales of oil simply because her little faith did not get enough vessels to hold the Lord's bounty. She paid the debt and had justenough to live on from hand to mouth. So many Christians live from hand to mouth when they could have the whole bounty of the Lord. So many there are who think if they can only get within heaven's gates they will ask no more."

When he had finished his discourse the front row of seats was cleared, and Mr. Barnes invited those who wished to partake of the free gilts of God to come forward. Twenty men and women, among them Pastor Fulton and the Rev. Dr. Hiram Hutchins of the Bedford Avenue Church, took the seats. Going to the lady at the end of the row, Mr. Barnes said:

"And now, dear sister, what do you take from the blessed Jesus, trusting him as best you can?" A similar question was asked of each one. Several answered that they gave their hearts to the Lord. One asked for a full realization of His acceptance. A lady asked for the conversion of her whole Sunday school class. Another for the conversion of a son and two brothers. Another for the conversion of a son and two brothers. Another for the conversion of a son and two brothers. Another for the word of God. Another for the salvation of his wife, five boys, and a circle of friends. Pastor Fulton asked for greater power for the svening's work. The Rev. Mr. Hutchins asked for a great revival in his church. Two gentlemen and one lady came forward when a call was given for those who desired to be healed of bodily maladies. The lecture room was filled with an attentive audience.

"Every one who comes gets something to carry away." said a gontleman as the audience separated.

HOP SACKING GETTING HEAVY.

said Mr. Weilbacher to the reporter, "is to do away with the custom of paying hop growers for their sacking cloth in which the hops are packed in bales. When hops were low we didn't mind the slight extra expense, but now that hops are from $1 to $1.10 a pound this extra expense amounts to $6 or $7 a bale. The farmer won't allow any ture. He pays for his sacking cloth 75 cents a bale, of 175 pounds. The sacking cloth weighslabout 1% pounds to the yard, and five yards are used in a bale. That amounts to 7% pounds of cloth, which at $1 a pound amounts to $7.30, a nice little sum, you see. But farmers are not satisfied with this. They ordered heavier sacking last summer, which will run 2 pounds to the yard, instead of 1% pounds. So where the merchant lost $7.30 he will lose $10.

The hop merchants are interested in this way "added Mr. Weilbachen "the allow the

The hop merchants are interested in this way." added Mr. Weilbacher. "they allow the prewer 8 pounds tare per bale of hops, and so the bulk of the loss is on the middle men. The brewer is interested because if the weight is over 8 pounds the loss is borne by himself. But chiefly he is the loser through high prices to the middle man, who must charge high to cover the tare."

William Pease, 73 years old, when on a train of the Delaware, Luckawanna and Western Railroad, or his way from Hoboken to Montelair, handed the con his way from Hoboken to Montelair, handed the con-ductor a compon ticket for a passage from Montelair to Hoboken, saying that on his trip the same day from Montelair the conductor had torn off the wrong coupon, and that he was entitled to ride on the licket he present-ed. The conductor refused to accept the ticket, and on Mr. Pease's refusal to pay his fare the train was stopped at some distance from a station, and he was put off. Be-fore being ejected he offered payment, but it was re-fused. The tieneral Term of the Court of Common Pleas yesterday, on appeal, reversed a ludgment for $3,000 re-sovered by Mr. Yesse, holding that if a passenger refuses to pay fare on a realized train, and the train is stopped for the sole purpose of ejecting him for his refusal to pay, he cannot save himself from ejection by then offer-ing to pay his fare.

THE COURT SENT THEM HOME.

The Tame End of a Case that Began with a Weman's Appeal for Protection. Mrs. Esther Diets, a well-dressed woman, apparently about 40 years of age, applied in the Yorkville Court yesterday for a warrant for the arrest of James Budd, an English inventor, who is domiciled at the Vanderbilt Hotel, but who, she said, could then be found at her rooms, 239 East Thirty-sixth street. Budd, she said, had threatened her life unless she reshe said, had threatened her life unless ane re-turned to him property valued at $13,000, of which she said he had made her a present a year ago when she was a servant in Boston. She was afraid, and demanded the law's protection. A warrant was issued, and a court officer found a quiet, middle-aged man in earnest conversation with several women and tection. A warrant was issued, and a court officer found a quiet, middle-aged man in caracest conversation with several women and a young man. He was astonished when the warrant was shown him, but went quietly with the policeman. He told Justice White the foliowing story:

"This woman was a servant in my house in Boston for more than four years. I have been troubled with lung complaint for a long time, and in May last considered my condition dangerous. I then placed in this woman's name, as a trust, the deeds to certain real estate in Dorchester, valued at about $13,000. She had always been faithful, and I supposed I could trust her. In case of my death she was to deliver the property to my wife, in England.

A formal examination into the charges was made by Justice White. Mrs. Dietz was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Knox, of 239 East Thirty-sixth street, her adopted daughter, Mrs. Daniel P. Reynolds, of 15 Beach street, and the latter's husband. All the parties appeared well to do. Mrs. Dietz told the Court that she had lived with Mr. Budd for several years on very intimate terms, and they had travelled together in Europe. Another woman unexpectedly turned up in England, who, it was evident, was not Mr. Budd's wife. Mrs. Dietz was satisfied he had no wife. The deeds referred to were a free gift, presented after she had nursed Mr. Budd through a dangerous illness. She came to New York several months ago, and had resided with her brother. Mr. Budd arrived here several days ago, hunted her up, and threatened repeatedly to blow her brains out unless she returned the papers he had given her.

"Now, I want to be protected," she said. "I believe my life is in danger. He has declared too, that he would bring another woman and make a scene in my brother's family."

"Ans. Knox said she hadiut heard Mr. Budd threaten Mrs. Dietz sail fe, but he told her yeared and the best of him.

Daniel P. Reynolds said: "Mr. Budd came to my house last Monday afternoon. I came in while he was there. He became very passio

Mr. Matthews Makes a Night of It. Occasionally a Police Commissioner drops in at a station or two of an evening, but it is not often that one swings around the circle as Commissioner Matthews did on Thursday night. He began at the Mercer street station, and, after inspecting the building from garret to celler, went over to the Charles street station, where he did likewise. He then visited in succession the stations in Twentanth atreet. Thirty seventh street, Farty-seventh street, and 100th street. Crossing over to the east side, he gave the Harlem police a call, and finally ended his tour at the Town Hall of Morrisants, where he arrived at 6½ o'clock yesterday morning. The only result of the Commissioner's grand tour which was developed was an order for extra stoves in some of the stations visited.

Policeman Tully of the Morcer street police found John Murphy, colored, hidden in the hardware store at 126 Sixth avenue on the night of the 21st uit. Murphy had broken into the store. He pleaded guilty in the General Seasions, and Recorder Smyth asked whether he could give the name of any one who could testify that he had had a good character.

"Mr. Davis, ash—Mr. Raphet Davis—he'll give me a character." Murphy answered. Recorder Smyth sent for Mr. Davis, gives you the wrong kind of character, Murphy." Recorder Sinith said yesterday. "I sentence you to State prison for two years and six months.

Milbourn V. Crandall, lately a salesman for Lord & Taylor, and Frank Talcott pleaded guilty yesterday in the General Sessions of stealing a piece of velvet. Crandall stole it and gave it to Talcott to sell. Friends of Talcott informed Judge Gildersleeve that he had fine family connections in Brooking, and that he had borne an excellent reputation. Crandall was also shown to be of previous good character. Judge Gildersleeve sent them to the Eimira Reformatory.

James F. Sheehan, lately confidential clerk for Megros. Fortier, Grosse & Co. of 87 Grand street, was brought to this city yesterday from Montreal. He was straigned in the General Sessions upon an indict-ment charging him with forging the endorsement of the firm upon a check for 87,230, drawn by Arnold, Con-stable & Co. Sheehan wished to secure counsel, and was committed to the City Prison.

The Owner of the Grand Central Hotel Directed to Make Couly Alternations. Elias S. Higgins, owner of the Grand Central Hotel, was yesterday notified by Building Inspector Esterbrook that his hotel was unsafe and in a dangerous condition from lack of fire escapes, and that he must supply the need within thirty days. The notification ordered him to place upon the Mercer street front of the building fron balconies to take in the two souther; windows of each story; similar balsixth windows from the southerly end; similar balconies to take in the two northerly windows of each story, with ladders to connect each balcony with the one below it, and from drop ladders from the lower balconies to the sidewalk; to enlarge the halls at the entrance to each of these balconies on the several stories by removing the partition which separates the halls from the adjoining rooms, so as to enable the inmates to more readily reach the said balconies in case of necessity.

The Mercer street side of the Grand Central Hotel is eight stories high. Two additions stairways have been recently put in by order of the Building Bureau. Compliance with the new order entails the sacrifice of three rooms on each of the stories above the ground floor; but Inspector Esterbrook will appeal to the courts in case the order is not carried out within the time specified.

THE LAW.

In that same spirit of liberality which has always characterized the dealings of HIRSH-KIND & CO. with their neighbors, they desire to call the attention of some of our uptown clothing houses to section 326 of the New York Penal Code, which reads as follows: "A person who sells, gives, or in any way what-ever furnishes or transfers to or for another a ticket, chance, share, or interest, or any paper, certificate, or instrument purporting to e or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or interest in or dependent upon the event of a lottery, to be drawn within or without this State, is guilty of a misdemeanor." Section 323 of the Penal Code defines a lottery to be "a scheme for the distribution of property by chance among persons who have paid or agreed to pay a valuable consideration for the chance, whether called a lottery, raffle, or gift enterprise, or by some other name." Comment is unnecessary. All species of the Peter Funk game are a direct imposition on the public, and every dollar spent to promote them comes out of the pocket of the victim. HIRSHKIND & CO. prefer to spend their money in the interest of their customers, and for that reason, and as AN HONEST COUNTER ATTRACTION to lottery schemes, are offering THE FINEST STOCK OF CLOTHING IN THE CITY AT ONE-HALF THE USUAL PRICE ASKED ELSE-WHERE. Therefore all who desire to SAVE present great "MARK DOWN" and visit

MR. BEARDER RUFTURE EXPERIENCES.

MR. BEARDER RUFTURE EXPERIENCES.

MR. Stillman A. Beard, a prominent farmer from Hughaville, Mo. formerly an old resident of Marina, Ill., was in the city last week for the purpose of obtaining Dr. J. A. Sherman's freatment for a resemt left-side rupture. He stated that in 1874 he was treated by Dr. Sherman for a right-side rupture as large as the Jordan case in the Doctor's illustrated book, and was effectually cured, and expects to reap the same benefit again, netwithstanding he is 65 years of age. Mr. Beard is enthusiastic in praise of Dr. Sherman's system, believing it the only one by which rupture can be thoroughly cured, having exhausted all other remedies before he applied to him in the first instance.

Dr. Sherman,

And the only Dr. SHERMAN known to the public in connection with the treatment and cure of rupture, has now been favorably known for over 30 years as the only successful practitioner in his specialty in this constry, as thousands of grateful men and women all over the laud, who have been permanently cured by his treatment, bear witness. The skeptical who have been victimized by unprincipled quacks are cheerfully referred to prominent men in this and other cities who have availed themselves of the Doctor's treatment.

Dr. NHERMAN'S' Book on Rupture' gives convincing proofs from professional gentiemen and others of his successful treatment. It is illustrated with photographic pictures of bad cases before and after cure, and is sent to those who send 10 cents. Principal office, 201 Rroadway, New York.
